Great Langdale [17th May] Crinkle Crag offer a classic Lakeland ridge walk that fully lives up to the expectations its exciting eastern aspect suggests. Undertaken in conjunction with the highly individual peak of Pike o' Blisco, one has the ingredients for a thoroughly rewarding day on the fell. Keen fell walkers will eagerly mop up Cold Pike, and on the way round they might include Little Stand. If energies are up, however, they will be more inclined to bolster their mountain day with the mighty scalp of Bowfell which ranks high in many fell-walkers' esteem. It is rooted in Great Langdale, from where its peaked summit has all the air of an emperor's throne, set high above a defending fringe of impressive buttresses and distanced by the long tongue of The Band.

MOBILE PHONES will be carried at all Club events:

Ennerdale [14th June] - Steeple, Scoat Fell and Pillar from Bowness Knott. The re-wilding of Ennerdale, known as the Wild Ennerdale project, is a laudable attempt to restore nature's balance in a valley that has been ill served in the last hundred years, particularly with the imposition of alien conifers. Progressively the pines and firs are being felled and the valley given a new lease of life, restoring it to a more natural state. With vision and patience, time is the great healer. Although this is a long walk, the mountain experience is well worth the effort. The route follows the main valley track to the head of Ennerdale Water and branches over the river above Char Dub to climb through the plantations onto the dense heather moor and high onto Steeple. Quickly and easily connecting with Scoat Fell, the walk follows the skyline over Black Crag to Pillar and down the stepped ridge by Looking Stead to Black Sail Pass. Here it takes leave of the ridge and follows the old bridle path from Wasdale Head that leads down into upper Ennerdale. After passing the remote Black Sail Youth Hostel, the walk concludes down-dale, largely in the company of Coast to Coast walkers.

Ambleside [5th July] - Low Pike, High Pike, Dove Crag, Hart Crag, Fairfield, Great Rigg, Heron Pike and Nab Scar. An all-time favorite horseshoe ridge walk. A chain of eight edifying summit viewpoints give the Fairfield round pre-eminence. Ridges always provide the very best of fell walking, especially when they are graceful and the outlooks generous. In this instance, weather dependent, satisfaction is almost certainly guaranteed.

Buttermere [26th July] - High Crag, High Stile and Red Pike. One of the truly classic high-fell rounds, comprehended at a glance. High Stile is the centre-piece of a magnificent fell massif abruptly looming over Buttermere - brazen with all the finest qualities of the Lakeland mountain form, and yet quite unique. The route includes three delectable summits and a procession of uplifting views. It initially runs through the forestry on the southern shore of Buttermere, a charming interlude to get you into full stride. The walk then mounts steadily up to Scarth Gap, the pass impressively flanked by Haystacks. It clambers onto the emerging ridge to the right, crossing the minor ridge-top height Seat to tackle the more stem climb onto High Crag. Thereafter, the ridge-top walking is sublime, via High Stile and Red Pike, from where the walk slips down to Bleaberry Tarn and the well-pitched path down to the lake's foot, with stunning views too.
